- It shows moderate / warm climate with ocean influence.

- Rainfall of 500 mm during the winter season and temperatures of 59-91 °F / 15-33 °C during summer and 37-57 °F / 3-14 °C during the winter period.
- Soils are frand to franc/clay from alluvial origen.
- Vertical trellis conduction system. 100% tecnified irrigation system.
- Major varieties Cabernet Sauvignon, Syrah and Carménère.

- Combination of soil, climate, topography and viticultural management.
- Focused on producing premium wines that are fresh, expressive and of origin Marchihue due to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean and unique conditions. These conditions are scientifically and periodically studied.
- As a result, we obtain balanced growth, vigor and root development, which provide support and an adequate growth; resulting in complex wines with well structured tannins, influenced by the coastal climate, showing freshness and fruitiness.

TERROIR PROJECT

- The Terroir project is oriented to seeking the best terroir conditions to produce Premium and Ultra Premium Wines.
- It was born in 2008 and started in El Chequen, Marchihue.
- Soil analysis to identify the different areas, generating a mapping of the property, improving the agricultural management.
- Collect and analyze the agricultural management and the ecological results from previous years.
- Feedback our agronomists and winemaker team consider these results to define.
- Pedro Parra with Jaime Araya, has been instrumental in our pursuit of Terroir, helping to understand the character of our vineyards.

PETIRROJO

RESERVA

This wine comes with outstanding features in the beauty and simplicity of the Robin, characteristic bird of our valley, which delights us with his colorful.

His chubby and living silhouette, jumping between vines, well known to walkers, will not fail to notice his presence. Small front and red creature alive!

- Bright Colors.
- Stresses the aromatic intensity and freshness of the fruit, typical of each variety.
- In the mouth they are cool and friendly.
- Excellent price quality harmony.
- Wine to enjoy daily.
- The purest expression of the freshness of the fruit.

LA JOYA

Think of a dreamer, someone who does not step back to achieve his dreams, Dreams that materialize and become a reality when they let themselves be discovered, when they let themselves be seen, touched ... and embraced.
Because when a dream lets you shape it with passion, it will give you, drop by drop, the opportunity to make your dreams become a Jewel.

The Jewel of Chile.
